CHINA'S GREAT WALL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Imagination is stimulated by the story of Chinese-Japanese fighting "at the point where the great wall of China runs down to the sea."

Those ancients that built the great wall could not imagine flying machines that would road above it. They thought they had forever shut out attack by barbarian hordes.

Impossible for us to imagine how little the walls that we build, of finance, and property protection, will amount to a few centuries hence.

THAT JAPANESE one day would fly over the great wall did not occur to the Chinese that built it.

To the Chinese that wall is the most important thing in the world. How important, cannot be imagined by those that build laws to protect it and keep out the hungry and dissatisfied.

NOBODY quarrels about salt water or fresh air. There are plenty of both for everybody. The day is coming when nobody will quarrel about property or take any special interest in it. There will be enough for everybody, enough food, good books, music and leisure, the only things really important.

TODAY men accumulate money, wear themselves out and lose their characters doing it, as the tumblebug exhausts his energies storing up treasures in his store-house. Men will not be tumblebugs forever. That is something to be thankful for.

The change will come when the intelligence of men and their science are devoted to providing enough for everybody, instead of too much for a few.

YOU HAVE read of a flight by Charles Butler, British, from England to Australia, 11,500 miles in nine days, 1 hour 32 minutes, beating the world's record by an hour. More interesting, he flew in the world's smallest airplane, weighing about 500 pounds, and the trip cost him only $147 for fuel and oil, less than 2 cents a mile.

Airplanes with Diesel engines and cheap fuel will divide that cost by 10 before long.

ALREADY automobiles make travel so cheap that railroads will be compelled to revise transportation methods or abandon short hauls for freight, all hauls for passengers.

Recently, George Blestein, known to everybody in his city, traveled from Buffalo, N. Y., to Allaire, N. J., in a Ford automobile, visiting this writer. The car that carried two passengers could as easily and cheaply carry five. The trip, made in one day, about 500 miles, cost for gas and oil $5.10. For five passengers that would have been one-fifth of a cent a mile. For the two passengers it was one-half a cent a mile.

A MOST VALUABLE asset is the railroad rights of way, which nothing can ever replace. But they must be utilized with modern methods at modern speed and modern economy.

HAVE YOU heard of the liver-fluke that destroys thousands of

New Tariff Chief

Appointed by President Hoover as chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, Robert Lincoln O'Brien (above) is a former newspaper editor, and is now president of a Boston publishing company, O'Brien, who is 66, has been an active Republican for 30 years. He succeeds Henry P. Fletcher, who resigned.

AUTO MISHAPS KILL 8 IN OHIO; 2 HUNTERS DEAD

Six Other Nimrods Hurt; Many Injured in Highway Accidents

(By Associated Press)
Hunting and motoring diversions of the Thanksgiving holiday cost ten lives in Ohio. Two hunters accidentally shot and killed themselves and six others were wounded. Eight persons died in automobile accidents and many more were injured.

The hunters killed were Paul Woods, 40, Eyrin, and Jesse, 22, Pomeroy. Woods slipped and his shotgun discharged in his stomach. Jesse's shotgun also accidentally discharged hitting him in the back.

The Wounded

George Leikas, 19, Jefferson, whose shotgun fell and discharged when he leaned it against a building. He was not expected to live.

Floyd Schuman, 21, of near New Philadelphia, wounded in the foot by a companion's gun.

Monroe C. Van Sickle, 25, hit in the foot by a shell which exploded as a companion was loading a gun.

Louis Critchfield, 15, struck in the foot by his own gun.

Carl Rudolph, 39, Lancaster, accidentally shot in the right arm and back by a fellow hunter.

Floyd Timmermann, 21, of Malta, south of Zanesville, lost the second finger of his left hand when his gun discharged while he was climbing over a fence.

Auto Fatalities

Those killed in automobile accidents were:

Lloyd Tsch, 25, Cleveland, whose automobile crashed head-on with a street car.

Clarence Bunch, 30, Cleveland, fatally injured in the same accident.

Belle Byer, 60, Cincinnati, struck by a machine when she slipped on a pavement made tricky by a light snowfall.

Mrs. Ernest Wells, 40, Stafford, victim of the collision of two automobiles west of Woodside; Anna Dolata, 20, Farrell, Pa., killed when a car driven by Walter Dmoshowski crashed into a telephone pole in Youngstown. Dmoshowski's wife was possibly fatally injured.

Mob Threatens Canton Man

Mrs. Anna Simmons, 61, Cleveland, hit by an automobile driven by a Canton man on Euclid ave., Cleveland, the driver was nearly mobbed by a crowd which thought he had picked her up. Police said he probably would be released.

Dr. I. B. Harris, prominent Columbus surgeon, and five others were injured when two automobiles collided three miles west of Washington court house. Besides Harris, the injured were Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. George McCoppin, of Sabina, and the McCoppin's two children.

Five persons were injured near London when two automobiles collided. One of them, Mat Eddie, Columbus, was reported near death. Drivers of the car were believed blinded by snow which stuck to the windshields of their cars.

Perry Tillman, 26, Negro, was killed when struck by an automobile while walking on the Dixie highway to Troy to witness a Piqua-Troy high school football game. Anthony Wells, 21, Negro companion, suffered a leg fracture, the driver of the car, Anthony Triolos, Paqua, said the two men were walking so far on the road, signaling for rides that he was unable to pass them.

Owen McGinnis, 22, Jackson, tire dealer, was killed when his automobile overturned near Jackson. His neck was broken.

CONSUL WILL BE HONOR GUEST AT RUMANIAN FETE

Government Aid In Cleveland To Attend Celebration Here

PROGRAM PLANNED BY LEUL SOCIETY

Banquet, Four-Act Comedy to be Presented Sunday, Dec. 6

George Anonogastache, Rumanian consul with headquarters at Cleveland, will be the guest of honor at a celebration planned by the Leul Society of Salem Rumanians at their hall, South Elsworth ave. on Sunday, December 6.

The society will be celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization. Hundreds of Rumanians, including officials of societies in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Michigan, are expected to gather here for the affair.

Arrange Program

The anniversary program is now being arranged by committees headed by Nick S. Buta, president of the society, and other officers, including Nick Orasan, vice-president; George Manculea, corresponding secretary; Piticar, secretary of the treasury, and M. Oana, treasurer.

Assisting the officers on the committees are Peter Taffan, Nick Maier, Stephen Tarzan, Jr., William Truta, John S. Buta, George Antone, Toma Stan, Peter Gherman and John Dan.

A four-act comedy, "Tricks of Fate," will be presented by the society under the direction of Leonie Copacea. A banquet, with Salem city officials, business men and manufacturers, together with Rumanian society executives as guests, will be held at noon.

Cast Is Completed

The cast of the play will be composed of Leo Copacea, Dan Balan, John Solomon, Stephen Tarzan, Aurelia Dan, Georgiana Buta, Stephen Gana, John Stoita, Anna Solomon, John Trembitas, Stephen Solomon and Earl Popa. A dance will also be held, with music by the Rumanian orchestra directed by Serafin Buta.

LEGION CONTEST JUDGES CHOSEN

Three to Pass On Essays During Post-Membership Drive

Three judges were selected today by officials of Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, for the essay contest being held by the post in conjunction with its annual membership campaign.

The judges are Mayor J. M. Davidson, R. W. Hawley and Frank J. Eckstein.

Cash prizes are being offered to writers of the best essays on the subject, "Why I Should Belong to the American Legion." The prizes are $5, $3 and $1.

Everett Rich is chairman of committees conducting the drive.

Hoke Smith, Former Senator, Succumbs

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Nov. 27.—Hoke Smith, former governor and United States senator from Georgia, and secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President Grover Cleveland, died at his home here today.

He was 76 years old.

Beatrice Burton Defends "Eyes That Will Not See" In Her Newest and Best Serial Success, Mary Faith

Life Among Young Married Crowd Portrayed In Graphic Style

"She must be blind! The poor girl—she doesn't realize how her husband is carrying on! How can she tolerate it?"

Those words Beatrice Burton maintains, are frequently heard in every community—particularly among the young married crowd with its roots in skyscraper-offices and commuting trains and "efficiency" apartments.

Is It Worth It?

But they don't mean anything, Miss Burton contends. What of it—even if the young wife does refuse to smash the marriage with abrupt and indignant action, as soon as she finds out her husband has clay feet, after all? Perhaps—and this is what Miss Burton attempts to show in "Mary Faith," her new popular serial—perhaps the reclamation of a wandering husband may be worth the wounded pride and suffering.

Kim and Mary Faith were young people like many another couple in the land. Kim worked hard in a stuffy office, trying to get on. Mary Faith worked hard in a stuffy office, trying to get on. Mary Faith worked hard in a stuffy office, trying to get on.

Mix Fighting

Tom Mix (above), film circus cowboy actor, who has waged countless mimic battles for his admirers, is fighting a real battle for his life. Operated on for a ruptured appendix in Los Angeles, the star began to suffer from peritonitis shortly afterward. A special serum rushed to the cow-punching, hard-riding idol by airplane is believed to be saving his life.

STATE DEMANDS OBSERVANCE OF WAGE MINIMUM

Road Contractors warned Not to Pay Workers Below Rates

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—The state highway department today threatened blacklisting, forfeiture of contract, and possible criminal action against any state contractor failing to pay the minimum labor wage set by the department.

Takes Specific Action

Action was taken specifically today against the A. W. Burns Construction company of Columbus, holding a $36,943 contract for paving a half mile of road at Worthington, Franklin county. Informed the company had paid less than 40 cents an hour minimum called for in its contract, Highway Director O. W. Merrell ordered immediate payment of the minimum, back pay for the difference between the pay received and that called for, and a similar amount as penalty provided by law.

The Burns company, a department inspector reported, has been paying men from 25 to 30 cents an hour, whereas the contract granted called for payment of the 40 cent rate fixed for Franklin county. The rates range from 35 cents in rural counties to 50 cents in Cuyahoga.

Will Enforce Law

"We feel that this law is just and reasonable," Merrell said in referring to state law governing minimum wages on state contracts, and it is our intention to enforce it to the limit of our ability."

Gets $550 Verdict

LISBON, Nov. 27.—A verdict granting $550 to George M. Aten of Wellsville, in his suit for $6,000 against the Columbiana county board of commissioners for alleged damage resulting to his property from construction of the Wellsville-Salmonville rd., was returned here Wednesday.

The verdict was given by a jury hearing the case in the court of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle.

Aten asked $6,000. The commissioners offered a cash settlement of $340.25. Aten refused.

Is Reclamation of Wandering Husband Worth the Suffering?

Kim was restless, nervous, adventurous, with an eye for every pretty girl who came along. Mary Faith didn't see what her eyes showed her at first; and when she did she reasoned that perhaps it was better not to see.

Her friends couldn't understand her. The truth is, that apparently idle marriage of hers did very dangerously toward almost all the modern crags upon which romance is in the habit of wrecking itself. Humdrum domesticity. The other girl who remained in the office and saw Kim all day. The thirst for high adventure and new faces which coursed in Kim. Modern ideas.

Mary Faith faced them all. How she won her dramatic fight for happiness is told with the same color and fidelity to life which made "Lovejoy" and "The Flapper Wife" great successes for Beatrice Burton.

Don't miss the first enthralling installment which appears today in The Salem News.

LEAGUE FAILS TO GIVE ASSENT TO ORIENT PLAN

Demands Endorsement of Chinese On Resolution

JAPANESE HALT RAIL ACTIVITIES

Japs In Tientsin Issue Ultimatum To Foes to Cease Firing

BY P. I. LIPSEY, JR.
Associated Press Writer

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The League of Nations' council, meeting briefly this evening, declined to adopt the Manchurian resolution urging a cessation of hostilities, which has been under discussion for several days, on the ground that it first should receive the endorsement of the Chinese.

It was understood that the resolution was acceptable to the twelve principal members of the council but that some of them regarded it as essential that China assent to the measure. It suggests before it is formally adopted.

Negotiations therefore resumed with Dr. Aihwa Sze, the Chinese member of the council.

TOKYO, Nov. 27.—Japanese military activities along the Peiping-Mukden railway have been halted, a war office spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said orders had been issued to the troops not to proceed any further in the direction of Chinchow and they would withdraw to Mukden. The withdrawal was made conditional, however, upon a cessation of the danger from bandits, renegade soldiers and other disturbing elements which have been threatening the Japanese.

TIENTSIN, CHINA, Nov. 27.—Japanese military authorities issued an ultimatum to the Chinese here today, demanding that they cease firing by noon. The Chinese answered that they could not reply before 6 p. m.

BOY IS STRUCK BY TRUCK, DIES

Teddy Blamer, 7, Kensington, Hit While Playing Football

Teddy Blamer, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blamer of Kensington, died Wednesday at the Central Clinic hospital from injuries sustained when he was struck by a truck near his home.

The boy is reported to have been playing football near his home and was struck and run over by a truck driven by M. E. Smeltz, Carroll county, when he ran after the ball in the street.

The rear wheel of the truck passed over the boy's abdomen, causing internal injuries that proved fatal.

Sheriff W. J. Barlow investigated the accident.

Pleads Not Guilty

LISBON, Nov. 27.—Frank Laley of Minerva will be tried in the court of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated next Tuesday.

Laley was arrested Thursday by Sheriff W. J. Barlow who said that he followed the motorist to Minerva then arrested him.

Laley pleaded not guilty and furnished bond for trial on Tuesday.

They Bared Farm Board Affairs

Starting news of the activities of the federal farm board were bared by two of its members when they were called to testify before the Senate Committee on Agriculture in Washington. James C. Stone (right), chairman of the Farm Board, disclosed the fact that of the $500,000,000 voted the board, only $45,000,000 remains. Millions of bushels of wheat and thousands of bales of cotton were brought at high prices with the expended amount. Carl Williams (left), board member, told about the funds spent for cotton. Senator Charles McNary (center) is chairman of the committee which heard the reports.

SENIOR CLASS COMMITTEE ON PLAY SELECTED

Plans Well Under Way For School Production On Dec. 9-10

Committees in charge of the senior class play, "The Goose Hangs High," scheduled at the high school auditorium Wednesday and Thursday, December 9-10, were announced today by Miss Ethel Beardmore, class advisor.

Rehearsals are being held every night by members of the cast, in charge of Miss Mary Lanpher, director of the play. Tickets will be placed on sale next Monday.

Lionel Smith, senior class president, heads the executive and financial committee, with Mary Louise Scullion, secretary-treasurer of the class, Gordon Scullion, vice-president, and Miss Beardmore, as aides. Other committees follow:

Publicity—John Reeves, chairman; Ted Visker, Mary Burke, Sara Spiker, Treva Hack, Robert Bryan, Margaret Starbuck and Miss Mildred Hollett, faculty adviser.

Properties—Jean Olnhausen, chairman; Carl McQuiken, Anna Ruth Kerr, Donald Althouse, Catherine Flick and Miss Lois Lehman, faculty adviser.

Stage—Jack Roberts, chairman; Edgar Wilms, Andrew Ulrich, Harold Hertenstein, Joseph Bush and Karl Sanders, adviser.

Lighting—Kenneth Herbert, chairman; Wade Schaeffer and Herbert Jones, faculty adviser.

Miss Lanpher is chairman of the costumes committee, assisted by Louise Grove and Dorothy Wright.

SNOW BLANKETS CITY AND STATE

Traffic Slowed as Result of Heavy Fall; Fences Up In County

A sheet of white blanketed Salem streets today as residents awoke to find the city covered with an inch of snow from the first real snowfall of the winter.

More than an inch of snow fell during early morning hours. Travel on county roads and on streets of the city was impeded slightly by sluggish conditions from the melting snows.

Snow fences have been erected on all county highways.

Weather conditions of a similar nature prevailed throughout the state.

Lad Fatally Hurt In Charity Game

(By Associated Press)
SIDNEY, Nov. 27.—His back broken in a charity football game between two teams of Sidney High school alumni, Ralph Bauman, 22, died today.

The game was played last Saturday. Bauman was hurt in making a tackle. He was removed immediately to Wilson Memorial hospital here where he died.

GRIDIRON FOES MEET AGAIN ON SATURDAY, DEC. 5

Contest Wins Approval of Respective School Athletic Heads

CITIES TO SPLIT RECEIPTS OF GAME

Aviators Capture 12-2 Decision In Thanksgiving Battle

Football teams from Salem and Alliance High schools, among the oldest interscholastic rivals in Ohio, will clash in a charity contest at Mount Union college stadium, Alliance, on Saturday afternoon, December 5.

Arrangements for the contest are being completed this afternoon in a meeting between George O'Brien, president of the Alliance Chamber of Commerce and W. J. Springer, Salem High principal and head of the school's athletic board.

Coaches Agreed

Both coaches, Floyd W. Stone of Salem and George Wilcoxen of Alliance, have agreed to play the game. The proceeds will be divided between the two schools and the schools turn the money over to charity.

The two schools, rivals in gridiron warfare since the year 1896, clashed in their annual Thanksgiving day contest at Reilly athletic stadium Thursday morning, Alliance outclassing the Quakers to win a 12-2 victory.

Disappointed in the showing of his varsity gridirers in the contest, Stone approved of the charity game only after a talk with his players. The team was away off in its performance.

Yesterday's victory gave the Wilcoxen-coached combine a 15-14 edge in the 33 games played in the past 35 years. Four games have ended in ties while Salem will have a chance to again even the series with a victory in the impending battle.

Estimate 6,500 At Game

A throng of 6,500 spectators, among the largest to ever attend a schoolboy grid contest in Salem, watched the demoralized Quaker machine bow in defeat for the second time this season. It was the first setback for the home team since the disastrous 12-0 reverse sustained in the inaugural conflict of the season with Canton McKinley High.

Alliance tallied six first downs to Salem's five and outgained the home-towners in both scrimmage plays and forward passes. Both teams presented good aerial defenses, Salem, with John French throwing, trying 14 without successfully completing one. Alliance tried eight aerials, completing two for 30 yards.

Punting predominated, with Ed Beck, Salem's triple threat star, kicking 15 times to average 42 yards a boot. He out-kicked his three Alliance opponents, Quinlan, Farmer and Russell, an average of 11 yards a kick, the Aviator booters kicking 11 times to average 31 yards.

Acquit Pantages On Criminal Count

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Alexander Pantages, theater, 27—multimillionaire accused and once convicted of a criminal attack on Eunice Pringle, youthful dancer, was acquitted by a jury here today. The jury was out 65 hours.

The verdict was returned shortly after the jurors returned to the chambers this morning.

Pantages and his family were in the courtroom as the verdict was read. For the theater millionaire, it brought to a close a court fight more than two years old and which he had claimed from the day he was arrested, August 9, 1929, was brought about by a plot to blackmail him. He was convicted on his first trial, but the state supreme court set the verdict aside.

Blood Poisoning Fatal To Lya De Putti, Hungarian Actress

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Little Lya De Putti, Hungary's charming contribution to the cinemas of Germany, England and America, died early today. She was 32 years old.

A chicken bone that lodged in her throat November 19 was the indirect cause of death. The immediate cause was pneumonia, complicating a case of blood poisoning that followed the removal of the bone from her throat. She was unconscious nearly 30 hours before she died.

The picture that first turned the attention of America to Lya De Putti was the German film "Variety," a tragic drama, "The Mistress of the World" and "Mamon Lascars" were other productions in which she did notable work.

The arrival of talking pictures spelled doom to her Hollywood ambitions. She felt there was no place in American talking pictures for an actress with a foreign accent.

Efforts to win a public on the vaudeville and legitimate stage duction, "Made In France," which she opened in New York a year ago with high hopes lasted but a few performances.

The latter months of her life were plagued with illness and accident.

Youngstown Fires Blamed On Plotters

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 27.—Fires started in the corridors of two downtown buildings last night threatened to cause serious damage before they were extinguished.

The fires, in the heart of the business district, were reported at the same time two false alarms were turned in from outlying sections. Fire Chief Harry Callan said he believed the fires were part of a plot to start a downtown conflagration.

Firemen patrolled the business section all night after overcoming two blazes. At one place two men were seen running from the building shortly before the fire was discovered. Damage to both buildings was small.

Pilot Is Killed In Crash On Coast

PASCO, Wash., Nov. 27.—A night mail plane from Portland, flown by Pilot E. C. Bigelow, crashed in a fog a mile and a half west of this city late last night and Bigelow was killed. The plane did not burn.

The area was blanketed by fog. Airport officials said Bigelow apparently became confused in attempting to locate the landing field.

Robbers Get $4,000

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—Loot of approximately $4,000 was taken by five armed men who robbed a North High street cigar store here last night. It was reported to police. About $3,800 from the cash register and a safe they made the manager of the store open and $200 from five customers was secured.

Crack School Safe

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Nov. 27.—Total loot of robbers who blew open the St. Clairsville High school safe was $5.

CHRISTMAS BUYING SEASON

The Christmas buying season gets into full swing after Thanksgiving. Stores begin their holiday advertising programs. Display windows are dressed to make a special appeal to the Christmas trade. Shoppers begin to associate articles with names of friends and relatives. The public gets into its most generous buying mood of the year. If Christmas in the United States is predominantly commercial it is because a fundamentally generous people possessing abundant buying capacity have made it that way.

This year, more than other years, Christmas trade's importance in the economic scheme of the nation should be emphasized—not to inflate trade beyond its natural capacity but as a means of pointing out a well-established truth which has been partially overlooked in recent times. The truth is that the only dollars which make the wheels of industry move are those in motion—the dollars that are changing hands. Normal times depend largely on normal circulation of money.

Christmas trade will place many dollars in motion. They will have a direct effect on the state of business and industry. The National Dry Goods association has provided a measure of the effect.

The association estimates that the retail business of the United States during the four weeks preceding Christmas will total five billion dollars, and that more than half that amount will be spent in department and apparel stores, home furnishings, jewelry and other stores appealing strongly to Christmas trade. The normal increase in retail business due directly to holiday shopping is placed at $1,300,000,000.

This increase will mean the seasonal employment of 600,000 persons, now idle, for more than four weeks. They will earn approximately $45,000,000—wages which will be turned back into trade. The association does not attempt to estimate other factors in the Christmas trade, such as additional employment by railroads, express companies, the postoffice department, distributing companies and so forth. Christmas trade is an electrifying shock that quickens every movement of the national business community. It is a tremendous factor in the economic life of the nation.

Conservative thinkers agree that the low point of the depression has been reached and passed. Christmas trade well may prove to be the stimulus that will make many businesses and industries look forward hopefully to better days ahead, instead of reflecting sadly on the good days that have been left behind.

Prices are low. Buying opportunities are exceptionally advantageous. Merchants have every reason to be confident that the Christmas trade will be as heavy this year as it has been in other years. Shoppers have it in their power to help the general situation by helping themselves; they will not overlook their opportunity.

What Others Say

BRIAND'S COOL PROPOSAL

A late dispatch from Paris says that M. Briand has expressed himself emphatically in favor of intervention by America as the most certain method of ending the Chinese-Japanese warfare. "Intervention of the United States independently or in collaboration with the League would clarify and strengthen the position taken by the nations and ensure a rapid and peaceful solution," was the way the Frenchman put it.

"What Briand really had in mind in offering this succotash of flattery and effrontery was an idea that it would be nice for the League in its state of embarrassment and impotency. If the United States could be induced to play the goat for its benefit, Briand made in substance an admission that the League can elsewhere if possible, in order to not handle the problem confronting it, and must shift the burden have its face. The answer by Ambassador Dawes was, according to report, a statement that the United States must reserve its full freedom of judgment, combined with a refusal to sit in at the League Council table in discussions bearing on that organism's plans for enforcement of peace, which just now are taking on the aspect of a scheme to order an economic boycott against Japan. While the ambassador's words were softened a little by his subsequent assertion that it should not be assumed that America "is not wholly sympathetic with the League's efforts for peace in Manchuria," they nevertheless seem to constitute a pretty definite notice that this country is altogether against permitting itself to become a tool for the League, and doesn't intend to be forced into concurrence in any fool measures. This is rather discouraging for the League council; but we think it represents the sentiment of the United States.

A special reason why the United States can afford to be slow about taking any action regarding the Manchuria question is provided by a dispatch from Tokio announcing that a group composed of the American, British, French and Polish military attaches at the Japanese capital are leaving to investigate conditions in the harassed territory. Possibly they may be able to provide the world with something it now lacks, an authentic, impartial and dependable report on the situation there.—Detroit Free Press.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of Nov. 27, 1911)

Indications point to a successful good roads meeting here Tuesday. The object of the meeting is to discuss the paving of the road from Salem to Westville and thence north to Beloit, which would complete the pavement from this city via Sebring.

With adoption Sunday afternoon of a constitution, activities of the Men's Personal Workers league of Salem began. Wesley Van Gorder, who was converted during the Billy Sunday meetings in Youngstown, was the guest speaker. He is active in Y. M. C. A. work.

Samuel G. Kille, well known resident here for almost half a century, died Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. K. L. Cebourn, Madison ave.

Miss Florence Parr led a meeting of the Young Ladies Personal Workers league of the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday afternoon. Miss Lucille Hillis sang a solo.

Notre Dame Squad Feasts On Spinach

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—What, no turkey? Maybe that's what the Notre Dame football team thought yesterday when they sat down to their Thanksgiving dinner. They dined on spinach. The Irish, who passed through here enroute to New York to battle the Army, got a better break in the evening, however. Everybody has a wee bit of roast beef and a baked apple.

Dr. Bailey, 65, Dies

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 27.—Cerebral embolism, resulting from a fall that broke his kneecap, caused the death of Dr. Henry Turner Bailey, 65, dean of the Cleveland School of Art for 12 years prior to his resignation last year, at Chicago, according to word received here.

BOWELS need watching

Let Dr. Caldwell help whenever your child is feverish or upset; or has caught cold. His simple prescription will make that bilious, headachy, cross boy or girl comfortable, happy, well in just a few hours. It soon restores the bowels to healthy regularity. It helps "break-up" a cold by keeping the bowels free from all that sickening mucus waste. You have a famous doctor's word for this laxative. Dr. Caldwell's record of having attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your drugstore and have it ready. Then you won't have to worry when any member of your family is headachy, bilious, gassy or constipated. Syrup Pepsin is good for all ages. It sweetens the bowels; increases appetite—makes digestion more complete.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

Children should be immunized. Not long ago an important Child Health Conference was held in Washington. At that time the daily newspapers reported the debates and finally the conclusions of the conference. Recently little has been reported concerning the results of this important gathering. Nevertheless, the work is being carried on, even though the formal sessions ended some time since. The Conference expressed the views that although education is important, the health of our children must be considered first. It has been estimated that nearly three hundred thousand cases of communicable diseases are reported annually in the United States. Half of this number occur in children. This makes it important that the school cooperate with the health authorities and that greater public effort be made for better child health. These authorities insist that all children be vaccinated for smallpox and be immunized against diphtheria and scarlet fever. It is important that this be done before the child is admitted to school. Although typhoid fever cases are still reported, it rarely appears among school children. Typhoid is not easily transmitted from one child to another. If that disease should become prevalent, vaccines

The Stars Say —
For Saturday, Nov. 28
The stellar mutations for this day must be interpreted as of a rather disappointing and frustrating nature. The solar aspect to Saturn, while weak, is sustained in its adverse influence by the lunar square to Uranus, a figure of danger and disruption to a calamitous degree, which may prove of far-reaching effect on the present as well as future progress and satisfaction. Elderly persons are especially under a baneful influence. Money is also slightly offset, although some plans for new projects may be successfully launched. Those whose birthday it is are under a year of conflicting and thwarting planetary influence, with dangers or loss in changing or traveling. Elderly persons should avoid moving about. Finances are under sign of loss, although some new undertakings may be favorably considered.

may be easily administered. But as regards smallpox, diphtheria and scarlet fever, the danger is greater because these diseases are readily transmitted. This danger is a problem of the school, for in the schoolroom lies the danger of transmitting the diseases. It is important that the school-child be vaccinated before entering school. When vaccinated against smallpox, as well as receiving the inoculation against diphtheria, he is assured of reasonable safe from these diseases. Take the Precautions. Although at one time it was hoped immunity to scarlet fever could be given, the method has not been as successful as desired. At any rate it can be said that a child who receives inoculations against scarlet fever is not harmed, and in many cases may be markedly benefited. In actual cases of scarlet fever the advantages and benefits of the administration of scarlet fever anti-toxin are well worth while.

I mention these facts because there are many children attending school who have not received smallpox vaccination. In addition, there are many who should be subjected to the "Schick test" and "Dick test." The Schick test determines whether or not a child is susceptible to diphtheria and the Dick test does the same for scarlet fever. Please remember that the health of your child is worth any price. By his being healthy he will be able to attend school without any loss of time. Also he will not be exposed to the many dangers that exist in school life.

If you have not already taken these necessary precautions, why not speak to your board of health official or consult with your family doctor?

Answers to Health Queries
M. M. C. Q.—Would it be a serious operation to have the nose reshaped? Would such operation prove expensive?
A.—Not necessarily. Since doctors' fees vary it would be rather difficult to give you any idea as to the cost of such work as you may need. Consult a plastic surgeon at one of the hospitals for examination and advice.

"Thank You." Q.—What do you advise for dandruff?
A.—Brush the hair daily and use a good tonic. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

Miss Gladys G. Q.—What should a girl of 17½ years of age, 5 ft. 8 in. tall weigh, also a girl of 20, 5 ft 6 in. tall?
A.—They should weigh respectively about 137 and 132 pounds. This is about the average weight for people of this age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons. A few pounds above or below the average is a matter of little or no significance.

DETROIT—Music will be turned into food and clothing for at least 65 impoverished families. Thanks-eve when the Detroit Symphony

"It keeps my clothes as dainty as my hands!"

• "When you see how smooth Oxydol leaves my hands after washing dishes you won't be surprised that I use it for my choicest clothes, too! The only thing surprising is that a soap so mild gets my washing done quicker, easier than ever before!"

• Oxydol surges dirt away with rich suds. That's how it does such a thorough cleaning job without harming delicate fabrics or tender hands.

This mild soap gets things cleaner — quicker and easier — because it's supercharged for 50% more suds. Not just a lot of ordinary fluffy suds, too weak to stand up for long. These Oxydol suds are thick, rich, creamy suds that stand up long after ordinary suds would fizzle away.

You should see the way Oxydol suds loosen dirt, float it away and make clothes sweeter and whiter than they've ever been washed before!

And you should see how rich Oxydol suds lift the grease off dishes and pots and pans in less than a jiffy. How sparkling everything looks — and, if you want to let them dry without wiping, just give them a quick scalding rinse, for Oxydol leaves no clinging film.

Try Oxydol for every washing task. It makes the hardest water soft — and even soft water, remember, is hardened when you put dirty things in it. Get the big-sized orange and blue package from your grocer and you'll bless the day you learned its name.

sheep? The larvae of the liver-fluke live in snails, are dropped by snails on pastures, eaten by sheep with the grass, and the sheep die. Liver-fluke, snails and sheep probably would say, "Men can never do anything about that." They are mistaken.

THE DEPARTMENT of agriculture announces that airplanes will drop copper sulphate dust. It will kill the snails, the liver-fluke larvae will have no place to develop, and the sheep will not be killed.

That is something for sheep to be thankful for, on this Thanksgiving day.

MRS. KATE CRANE-GARTZ dislikes the idea of preparedness. She asks: "Doesn't the peace caravan trekking across the country with a gigantic petition to the President, mean anything to you?" Yes, unfortunately, it means pathetic futility.

We should work for peace, hope for it, pray for it, march for it. But we should always be ready for the other thing.

Thief Re-arrested

KANSAS CITY, MO., Nov. 27.—Police here today said a man held as Fred Kolschowsky, 21, escaped from the Mansfield, O., reformatory, six weeks ago under the name of Fred Wright.
He was arrested here when he fell on a snow-covered sidewalk and spilled from a bag jewelry identified as loot in a series of burglaries. Police said he confessed ten burglaries.

More Men Get Work

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—Twenty-five additional men will be employed at the Columbus repair shops of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Tuesday when a five-day week schedule becomes effective.
The shops have been employing about 170 men on a six-day schedule.

Attacks Girl, Shot

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 27.—Jerry Little, 38, was shot and killed here yesterday, after a quarrel in which he slashed the ears of his former sweetheart, Jessie Young, with a knife.

A man with the girl, before the quarrel, was held as a suspect. His name was withheld.

AUSTIN, Texas.—A federal game preserve at Lake Austin is proposed by Congressman James P. Buchanan of this district. The lake originally constructed for power purposes and now unused would make an ideal bird haven, Buchanan says.

When Rescue Cheated Death

Reaching desperately for the life line from the U. S. S. Swan that cheated death, 11 survivors of the ill-fated ship Baden Baden, which sank with the loss of five lives off the coast of Panama, are shown as the rescue ship approached them. The lifeboat, filled with its injured and starving human cargo, had drifted for three days in the open sea before succor came. The tiny craft was first sighted by a pilot of the Pan-American Airways, who reported it to authorities. Captain Hewitt Watler (right), of the Baden Baden, is shown in bed at Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, suffering from injuries. Lieut. G. B. Evans (left), is commander of the U. S. S. Swan.

YULE EXPRESS RUSH AWAITED

Railway Agency Distributing Christmas Package Labels

Confident that unfavorable though improving economic conditions will not interfere with the old American custom of swapping holiday gifts, the Railway Express Agency has prepared for a heavy Christmas package traffic during the next few weeks.

Nearly two million special holiday package address labels of a new design bearing the words "Do not Open Until Christmas" have been issued and are being distributed to the public, L. F. Buehler, agent of the company here, announced today.

Business Trend Upward

For more than two years, the express company has been owned and directed by the principal railroads of the country, operating over 95 percent of the nation's railway mileage.

Reflecting general business conditions, the express traffic of the United States has had its ups and downs, Buehler said, but the present trend is upward. The collection and delivery zone was recently enlarged to take in the entire corporate limits of this city.

Proper packing of gifts, with due consideration to the fragile nature of the commodity, is urged by Buehler, who says that much of the holiday traffic comes from infrequent shippers not always familiar with the essentials of a "good package."

Make Addresses Complete

The complete and legible addressing of packages is of vital importance as illegible or incorrect "marks" often cause delays in transit. Owing to the growth of so many small towns which have become sizable cities, express people urge that the complete street and number of the receiver of a package be indicated in the address.

Buehler also announced that a supply of holiday package address labels had arrived at the local express office and as many as required would be sent to local shippers on request.

LINCOLN, Neb.—Confiscation of supplies of liquor manufacturers is supplying the U. S. Veteran hospital with lots of "sweets". Eighty-two sacks of cane sugar, taken in a raid on a still near Omaha, were ordered turned over to the hospital here.

Will Keep Knife in His Brain

Linus Larson, 52, of Chicago, who has lived for thirty years with a knife blade (arrow) imbedded in his brain, is told by Dr. Karl Meyer (right) of the County Hospital at Chicago, as they examine the X-ray plate, that he can go on living without an operation, because there is no danger of infection and the blade is in the "silent" area of the brain, away from the vital nerves and vessels.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to Lease Drug Co. and Broadway Lease Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parment (double strength) and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Any one who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

In Common Pleas

In the divorce and alimony action entered April 16 last by Ophal E. Williams against her husband, Deibert Williams, Judge W. F. Lewis has entered an order for the defendant to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. Soon after the petition was filed Williams was ordered to pay the plaintiff $50 as counsel fees and in addition $28 monthly as alimony.

A motion to the petition has been overruled in the case of Maxine Charlton against Mrs. Ray Nagle and others, with exceptions entered for the defendant.

There has been a settlement at the costs of the defendant in the action filed by Elizabeth Simon against Thomas R. Martin.

On the ground of extreme cruelty a divorce decree has been granted Daniel P. Hoies against his wife, Agnes Hoies, and upon payment of costs. The case has been pending since May 14, last.

Leave to the defendant to plead by Dec. 1, has been granted in the appeal case of Sylvia Morron against Harry S. Warner.

The Russ Mfg. Co., has been granted leave to file its answer by Nov. 20 in the foreclosure action filed by the Peoples Savings & Loan Co. against Earl H. McClintock and others.

In the foreclosure action filed by Hazel V. Weaver and others against John E. Callahan, there has been a trial to the court and a judgment entered in favor of the plaintiff for $418.13. In addition judgment has been entered for Fred Gibbons for $418.13, E. F. Speidel, $139.38 and for Metzger, McCarthy & McCarroll for $139.38. The Peoples Lumber Co. was given judgment in this case for $107.07. A decree foreclosing the mortgage and an order of sale has been entered.

Judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $1,932.31 has been entered in the foreclosure action filed by the United Counties Savings & Loan Co. against Frank Wallon and others, and in favor of the City Loan & Savings Co. for $210-

27. A decree foreclosing the mortgage and an order of sale has been entered in this cause by Judge W. F. Lewis.

"MARY FAITH"

by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER 1

Mary Faith was burning her bridges. For three years, almost four, she had been waiting to burn them. Waiting to give up her room at Mrs. Puckett's family hotel in River Street. Waiting to tell Mr. Mark Nesbit, the head of the Nesbit Mercantile Company, that she was planning to give up her position as his private secretary just as soon as he could fill her place. Waiting to let her small world know that she was going to marry Kim Farrell at last.

For three years, almost four, she had been engaged to marry Kim Farrell.

For three years she had worn his modest diamond on the third finger of her left hand, and had spent part of every lunch hour embroidering guest towels and table runners for the home that would be Kim's and hers some day.

"If you don't get married pretty soon," Jean Bartlett, the head stenographer at Nesbit's, had said to her less than a week before, "you'll own enough hand embroidered linens to start a shop! I don't believe in these long engagements myself. There should be a law against them. Too many girls find themselves disappointed old maids at the end of them instead of blushing brides!"

Mary Faith had not answered her. She had only looked at her with clear, untroubled eyes and smiled. She had no doubts about Kim Farrell. He loved her just as she loved him. And so she was willing to wait for him.

And then late last night, as if to justify her faith in him, Kim had suddenly turned to her in the lamplight of Mrs. Puckett's old-fashioned parlor and asked her when she would marry him.

"Why—in about two weeks, I think," she had answered him as soon as she could get her breath. "You see, I'll have to tell Mr. Nesbit I'm leaving, and it will take me a few days to break his new secretary in to do my work. . . . Kim, to think of us really getting married in two weeks! Why, I never knew anyone could be so happy as I am right this minute!"

Long afterward it came back to her that he had said nothing about his own happiness that night.

At breakfast she had told Mrs. Puckett that she was going to be married on the first of October.

At noon she had broken the news to Jean Bartlett, who was half expecting to step into her shoes at the office.

It was half past five in the afternoon now, and Mary Faith was standing at the door of Mr. Mark Nesbit's private office.

She had something for him to sign in one hand and the door knob in the other. It was going to be hard to open that door and walk into the office to tell him she was leaving Nesbit's at the end of the month.

She had worked for him for four years—one year as a stenographer and three years as his private secretary. The place itself was like home to her. She had come to love the big, shabby offices with their cork-covered floors, their green-shaded lights and their high, narrow windows that faced the west.

The people who worked in them were her friends—all of them, from Jean Bartlett down to Stanley Odeskalki, the office boy. There was not one of them whom she was not going to miss in the new life that lay just ahead of her.

"I'm going to be married on the first of October, Mr. Nesbit," said Mary.

With a keen little sigh she turned the door knob and stepped into Mr. Mark Nesbit's office. He was standing with his back to the room, looking down into the parking space at the side of the building and fidgeting with the window shade.

At the sound of the door closing he swung round and met Mary Faith's eyes. Her deep steady eyes were like Mary Faith herself, somehow. You could not look into them without seeing that you could bank on her always for honesty and goodness.

They were dark blue, fringed with heavy lashes, and they would have given a certain beauty to even a plain woman. But Mary Faith was not plain. Health gloved in her cheeks and lips with a rose-red flame that left the rest of her face to the dusky whiteness of her skin, to the blackness of her brows and lashes. Her dark hair swept up from a widow's peak on her forehead and her lips, when she smiled, had the tilt of flying wings.

She was not smiling now. Serious and silent, moving like a breath, she came across the thick carpet of the office and laid her letters down upon Mr. Nesbit's glass-topped desk.

"I can mail these on my way home, Mr. Nesbit," she said quietly as she stood beside his chair, watching him sign his name to them one by one.

He had nice, clever-looking hands, she thought, watching them move across the papers in front of him. She had always liked his nice, homely face, his dark quick glance, his firm, pleasant way of giving orders.

She knew that he was bachelor and that he was only thirty-four years old. She knew too that he was making a tremendous success of the at Nesbit's, and since that time there had been only one man in the world for her—Kim.

"Mr. Nesbit," she said when Mr. Nesbit had laid down his fountain pen and was blotting the last of the letters, "Mr. Nesbit, I want to tell you that I am going to leave at the end of this month."

He turned in his chair and gave her a sharp frowning look.

"Leaving?" he repeated. "Leaving? What do you mean? Don't things suit you here?"

"I'm going to be married on the first of October, Mr. Nesbit."

He went on frowning at her a moment or two longer.

"Married," he said finally in a flat colorless voice. "I see."

"I'm sure Miss Bartlett can do my work, and I think she'd like to have the position," Mary Faith went on. "If you decide to give it to her I'll be glad to show her everything she'll need to know, before I leave."

She waited for him to answer her; but he said nothing. He sat looking at her with a puzzled, curious look in his eyes.

The room was very still. Outside the half past five whistles began to blow. An unseen door somewhere in the building banged twice. In the outer office Stanley Odeskalki began to whistle. "The Wedding of the Winds." He had been whistling maddening bits of it all day long.

"I'll be sorry to leave," said Mary Faith with a nervous little catch in her voice. "I've enjoyed working for you, Mr. Nesbit."

Still he said nothing, and there seemed to be nothing more for her

Balm Boston

If the unseasonably warm temperatures which Boston has been experiencing lately keep up, the Hub City will become a greater rendezvous for those seeking a balmy climate in the usually frigid Winter months than either Florida or California. Frinstance: here's Helen Nelson enjoying a dip in the sea, near Boston, on one of the late November days when the mercury climbed above 70.

THEATER Attractions

"HIS WOMAN", starring Gary Cooper and Claudette Colbert is the State theater's feature today.

"His Woman," directed by Edward Skeman, tells how an adventuresome and handsome bachelor and a pretty girl of the world are joined in enduring romance and happiness after a roistering experience in the tropics that starts with a womanless man's plan for bringing up a chubby little human derelict. Richard Spiro, nine months old is quite a show in himself.

Others prominently cast are: Averill Harris, Herschel May, Pasquel Davis, Sidney Easton and Hantree Harrington.

"FREIGHTERS OF DESTINY"

young Tom Keene's latest release is the attraction today at the Grand. Keene formerly known to screen goers as George Dureya is seen as Steve Macey, a daredevil cowboy who prefers broncho breaking to wagon freighting. Steve deserts his father's wagon train, and while he is away the freighters are attacked by raiders and old Macey killed. Determined to win revenge, and carry on his father's work, Steve finds he has lost the confidence of the town. The citizens are all for awarding the Macey freighting franchise to a rival bidder and only one person believes in Steve. She is the daughter of the town storekeeper.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

GRAPPLERS CLASH AGAIN
SHOW HERE NEXT TUESDAY
STRATTON MEETS SCHAFFER

THE SECOND in the series of wrestling shows sponsored by Al Zill of Youngstown will be held at the Memorial building auditorium next Tuesday night and once again Walter ("Buck") Stratton of Leetonia will be the featured mauler.

Stratton, rough and as tough as the next one, battles "Speedy" Schaffer of Detroit, Mich., in the main argument of the evening. It is scheduled for two out of three falls with two hours set as the limit.

A couple of "furriners" hailing from Persia and Italy will furnish the action in the one-hour semi-final, also for two out of three falls. The Persian, billed as "The Shiek," is Pete Morrillo, and his "Eyetalian" opponent is Martino Angelo.

There's a 10-minute lifter scheduled to start the evening off. And, Mr. James R. Kesselmeier will once again announce what's what.

Zill's first "raasle" exhibition was greeted with enthusiasm by the 400 odd fans who turned out for the show. There was more action packed in the two hours the show lasted than there is in the Chinese-Japanese war, and the casualties were almost as heavy.

Next Tuesday almost twice the number of fans who witnessed the inaugural show are expected. It's a sure thing that the audience that turned out for the opener will be back to a man. They're a lot of fun, these wrestling bouts.

CAMPOLO MEETS PRIMO CARNERA

Two Behemoths of Ring Will Clash Tonight At New York

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Two behemoths of the ring, Primo Carnera and Victorio Campolo, clash in the feature 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight with Carnera a heavy favorite.

Indications today were that Primo would enter the ring a 2 to 1 favorite. The rush of Carnera money perhaps best can be explained by the poor showings Campolo made against both Tommy Loughran and Ernie Schaaf.

Carnera, although beaten by Jack Sharkey in his last night here, showed unlimited courage if not much else.

The physical advantage will be rather evenly divided. Carnera at about 260 pounds will outweigh Campolo by close to 40 pounds but the South American will have advantages in height and reach. Carnera is the better boxer but Campolo backs the harder wallop.

Quakers Muff Scoring Chances; Visitors Hold Edge in Three Periods

Outclassing a demoralized Salem High football squad with marked decisiveness, Alliance High's slow moving but strong gridiron eleven subdued the Quakers, 12-2, in the thirty-third annual clash between the two schools at Reilly athletic stadium Thursday morning.

With almost ideal weather conditions prevailing, a throng of more than 6,500 fans is estimated to have gathered for the dash. They saw an allegedly high powered Salem High squad, after a furious and whirlwind first period opening, fold up and collapse in the second quarter and succumb to the invaders attack with a meekness that immediately spelled defeat.

Salem Misses Chances
Statistics failed to reveal the decisiveness of the invaders' victory. They tallied six first downs to Salem's five and out-gained the Quakers by only a slight margin. But, where Alliance took advantage of the only two scoring opportunities the contest availed for touchdowns, the Salem eleven muffed as many chances and was forced to go with-out and, incidentally, to bow in defeat for the fifteenth time to an Alliance gridiron eleven.

Salem fans looked with surprise as the Alliance defense broke through tissue paper interference given Ed Beck to smear the dynamic triple threat star for continued losses. Beck, apparently deserted by his teammates in this, his last inter-scholastic fray, tried hard but was able to crash through for only a few of his proverbial long gains.

There wasn't a single spectacular high spot in the fracas from a Salem angle after the first period elapsed. But, this first period showed what the Salem team was capable of accomplishing had not the sudden and unexplainable collapse occurred.

Salem Line Holds
The clash opened as Ed Beck kicked off to Quinlan who was downed on his own 26. Taking the ball on a scrimmage play, Quinlan lost two yards and Quick, trying an off-guard thrust, was dropped for a five-yard loss. Quinlan punted and Carpenter returned to the Alliance 47.

French, calling signals, plunged through for five yards and Beck added two. Beck was held for no gain then punted out of bounds on the visitors 20. Russell lost one. Quick gained it back. Quinlan, attempting a forward pass, was smothered by the Salem line which blocked the toss, the ball being caught by Wayne Sidinger who was downed on the Alliance 26.

Here, thought Salem fans, was the big scoring opportunity. Here was the chance to get the edge and win the game right from the start.

Alexander Gains 22 Yards
Carpenter was held to a gain of one yard and French was able to crush through for two more. Here Daniel Alexander, given his first chance in a starting lineup, juggernauted through the Alliance line for a 22-yard plunge and was downed on the four-yard mark.

A score now loomed as a certainty but French, crashing into center gained only 38 inches. Alexander gained a yard and a half and Beck was halted in his tracks. French called a pass which was knocked down, giving the ball to Alliance on downs.

Behind its own goal line for a punt, Quinlan's kick was blocked by Purn Sidinger, the ball rolling out of the end of the zone for a safety, giving Salem a two-point score. Pugh kicked off from the 20 to French who made a sensational 20-yd. return to the Aviators 34-yd. line, again piling Salem in position to score. Beck made nine yards but Salem was penalized 15 yards for holding. Beck punted and Quick was downed by Sidinger on his own 19.

Salem continued to hold the edge during the quarter. Carpenter's 13-yd. run and Alliance's impregnability against dashes by Ed Beck being features of closing minutes of play. Beck was seldom allowed past the line of scrimmage as Alliance players eluded his interference and stopped him for 23 after loss.

Salem Team Collapses
Beck, hit hard by Wiegell, Alliance guard who plays a great game, fumbled, the Aviators recovering on Salem's 35 to start action in the second period. That break appeared to be just what Alliance needed to start a great offensive spurt; it also looked to be something that played havoc with the Salem High spirit. Players began scowling and glaring at each other. The old team spirit and willingness to fight against odds, an element that has dominated many Salem games, was missing.

Quick, diminutive Alliance quarterback, was the star in the offensive drive started by the visitors. He gained 15 yards on a 10-play drive, but was held on the Alliance 10 by a tackle. Alliance then punted to the visitors 30. Quick gained 15 yards on a 10-play drive, but was held on the Alliance 10 by a tackle. Alliance then punted to the visitors 30.

White Sox Leader Likes Southpaws

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Lou Fonseca, new pilot of the Chicago White Sox, intends to include a flock of right-handed hitters among his rookies next spring in efforts to remedy the team's inability to hit south-paw pitching.

Analysis of the 1931 record of the Sox reveals they were suckers for southpaw hurlers. Lefty Grove beat them five times. Rube Walberg seven times, and numerous other left-handers in the league trimmed them anywhere from once to three times.

Coaches Champs

Walter A. Wiffler, former assistant and athletic coach at Salem High school, developed an undefeated inter-scholastic football team at Aquinas High school, La Crosse, Wis. in the 1931 season which closed Thursday.

Wiffler's team won the LaCrosse county grid championship. He coached in Salem two years, assisting W. J. Springer in 1928, in production of a team that went through a hard schedule of 10 games without sustaining defeat.

BUCKEYES PLAY MINNESOTA IN CHARITY GAME

Ohio State Given Slight Edge Over Gophers In Clash Saturday

(By Associated Press)

Chief interest for Chicago in Saturday's season-end football games centers at Minneapolis where Ohio State tackles Minnesota in one of the Western conference post-season charity tilts.

The Buckeyes, going prepared for blizzards if necessary, were given a slight edge over Minnesota. They stopped over in Chicago yesterday for the round-robin Western conference charity battles, and took a night train for Minneapolis, arriving there today.

Wacoer college was guest of the Navy at Annapolis in another out-of-state game. Other games on Saturday's list include Bluffton-Delaware at Lima, for charity.

Turkey-day games saw John Carroll defeated by the Quantico Marines, 13 to 0 at Cleveland, Xavier upset Haskell Indians 12 to 6 at Cincinnati. Ohio Wesleyan did the expected and trounced Western Reserve 25-7, at Cleveland; University of Cincinnati defeated its traditional rival Miami university, 20-0 at Cincinnati.

Mount Union triumphed over Akron University 7-6 at Alliance when LeRoy Rader placekicked the winning point in the last minute of play.

Basketball Shoes Used by Gridders In Football Game

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—If football shoes won't do the work on frozen or slippery gridirons, try basketball shoes or stocking feet—that's the way they do it in Iowa.

The Simpson college eleven of Indianola, Ia., won the Iowa conference title yesterday, by using basketball shoes on a frozen field to wallop Penn college, 38 to 0.

Over at Logan, Ia., the home high school team was trailing Woodbine High 6 to 0, at the end of the third period on a slick treacherous field. Logan had not lost a game this season, its record was at stake.

With six minutes to play, Coach Bob Evans sent out orders for the boys to take off their shoes and see how that would work. On the next play Halfback Neal Huff staged a long dash for a touchdown to tie the score.

Four Coast Stars Get Major Tryouts

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—In view of the success of Pacific Coast graduates in the big leagues last year, unusual interest will be attached to the debut of the four stars who will come up from the Coast next year.

They are Sam Gibson, veteran pitcher getting another trial with the Giants; Frank Crosetti, sensational San Francisco shortstop who will attempt to win a job with the Yankees; Hack, slugging Sacramento third sacker who has been snapped up by the Cubs; and Dave Barbee, home run hitter who will attempt to win his spurs with the Pirates.

TIGERS SUBDUE EAST LIVERPOOL

Wellsville Wins 12-0 Tilt Over Potters In 26th Annual Meeting

WELLSVILLE, Nov. 27.—Wellsville High school won the 26th annual interschool scholastic football game with East Liverpool High, 12-0, as 5,000 fans looked on at Nicholson field here Thursday. The clashes now stand 12 to 11, with three games deadlocked, in East Liverpool's favor.

The Potters reached Wellsville's five-yard mark three times but Wellsville's line held.

Keeler slipped off right tackle for the rst touchdown after Wellsville marched 60 yards down the field on a forward pass and end runs. Pettrelle scored the second marker on a 10-yard fake reverse.

Wellsville made 10 first downs to East Liverpool's eight, Roberts and Keeler stood out as the stars of the battle.

MANY TRADES LOOM IN MAJOR LEAGUES FOR 1932 CAMPAIGN

On the heels of the icy blasts that soon will blow King Football out of the sport spotlight for another year, will come the baseball trade winds with their whisperings of shakeups on the sixteen major league outfits.

Every year at this time reports of impending swaps fly thick and fast, only to simmer down to two or three trades at the December league meetings. But next season there will be at least three new managers, and new managers invariably mean trades.

Carry Pilots Dodgers
One of the new pilots, Max Carey of the Dodgers, declares he is ready to trade any player on the Brooklyn roster, if the club can be strengthened thereby.

Reds Need Men
Hack Wilson, Gabby Hartnett, Pat Malone and Charley Grimm, and perhaps others, will be placed on the trading block by the Cubs. Brooklyn doesn't want them, but Cincinnati and other clubs do. Joe Stripp, Earl Crabbree, Red Lucas and Ben Frey have been mentioned as possible Cincinnati trading material. Rogers Hornsby, mentor of the Cubs, is a great admirer of Crabbree.

A shakeup is due in Pittsburgh, where a new manager will hold sway. Barney Dreyfuss is said to be willing to part with Paul Waner, although "Big Poison" is a prime favorite with Pittsburgh fans and the break-up of the Waner brothers combination would be sure to cause a squawk.

Cards Seek Bartell
The Cardinals have two fairly expensive first basemen in Jim Bottomley and Jim Collins. It is thought unlikely that the club will carry both men next season. The Cards would like to get infielder Bartell from the Phillies.

The Yankees have urgent need for a couple of nine-inning pitchers and are sure to make a deal for a couple of hurlers during the off season. Manager McCarthy has a surplus of infield talent, with three new infielders coming up to make a bid for jobs, and some of this bunch undoubtedly will be sacrificed for pitching strength.

Kress May Go To Yanks
Washington also will attempt to strengthen a couple of weak spots, notably at second base, in a drive to finish ahead of the Athletics. Furpo Marberry didn't get along with Manager Walter Johnson last season and may be traded. And Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, has been quoted as saying Joe Judge, veteran first baseman, may be with another club next year. Detroit could use him.

Connie Mack already has pulled a deal, bringing a new pitcher and new infielder to the American league champions from the coast. Another Hot Stove League item is that Ralph Kress, a star infielder of the St. Louis Browns, might be swapped to the Yanks for Tony Lazzeri, who got off on the wrong foot in 1931. The idea is that a change of scenery might be beneficial to both.

As After Averill
A Cleveland-Athletics trade, Earl Averill for Rube Walberg, has been suggested—but not by Cleveland, so that's that Cleveland does need a shortstop, however.

Cubs and Giants would like to pry Fred Frankhouse loose from the pitching staff of the Braves. NEBRASKA CITY—Pat Kelly cut down the old 168-year oak tree in the city park here. In the heart of the trunk he found five pocket knife blades, two hand-made horseshoe nails and a big screw. They had been in the tree for over a century, the lumberman said.

Trifles That Will Glorify Simple Home Dishes

"Imagination can do more for fine cookery than money," said the traveler, who was something of an epicure. And he went on to describe the art as it was practiced among simple people who added a touch of imagination to the simple round of fare.

"A few pistachio nuts added to rice—have you tried it? A raw quince, chopped fine, and thrown into an ordinary stew of beef or veal and cabbage—there's a distinguished flavor for you! Pineapple in small chunks, added to chicken or veal stew—even if it's left-over chicken or veal—makes a splendid dish."

He disposed of the notion that foreign chefs produced superb food because they went in for expensive ingredients. Why couldn't turn out delectable morsels if an abundance of trifles, lobster meat, mushrooms, pete de foie gras, and other costly delicacies were always at hand?

It is, of course, up to the cook to develop her own imagination, and the prerequisite is an interest in the subject. The markets are rich with variety these days. It pays to make frequent explorations to the different parts of town to shops of various types and nationalities. The salad lover—and the number is legion among men as well as women—will find encouragement for that course. Vinegars of all sorts—tarragon, chili, wine, nasturtium, berry—powerful sauces to be used in infinitesimal quantities like tabasco, chili, soy—a large group of herbs, fresh and dried, capers, horseradish, pimiento, dill, bay, curry and so on.

There is a whole range of new flavors to be derived from nuts—almonds, walnuts, filberts, pistachio, pecans—which can be added to meat, fish and vegetable dishes in just the proper quantity to flavor but not dominate the dish. Fruits like pineapple, banana, quince, fresh and canned berries, dried fruits, cooked and chopped and added in small quantities to sauces and roasts, transform them from ordinary cookery to samples of a good chef's art. And if we are deprived of that great standby of the foreign chef—fine wines for cookery—we have a rather good substitute in the abundance of our fruit juices. Fresh fruit juices, like oranges, lemon, grapefruit, pineapple—or the dozens of canned fruits drained of their juice—can be added judiciously to all cooked foods to glorify their flavor considerably.

Stuffing the Turkey

A successful turkey dinner starts on the right road in the shop—and an early choice as usual gets the best bird. A fine turkey plump, with smooth, dark legs. The usual test for tender poultry—a soft, pliable cartilage at the end of the breastbone—applies to turkeys too. Allow plenty of time to prepare the turkey. Remember that the roasting will require three or four hours, or more, depending on the size. Also that it takes time to put a turkey in shape for roasting. Pin feathers must be singed off, the bird washed well, filled with a dressing, and tied and sewed up, and that may take from 15 minutes to an hour, depending on the skill of the cook and the fussiness of the stuffing.

After washing the turkey fill with a bread, cracker, nut or oyster dressing as preferred. Sew up opening with a stout thread and tie wings to the body with a bit of string. Press legs to the body and tie, then tuck the neck under the body and tie that. Sprinkle the turkey all over with salt, then spread with butter and dredge with flour. Place in a very hot oven for about 10 minutes—until brown—then reduce the heat and cook in a moderate oven (about 375 deg. F.). Add two cups of boiling water to the pan, and baste every 15 minutes with the pan liquid. Allow 20 minutes per pound after browning, which means that a 10-pound turkey will take about four hours to roast to tenderness.

Gravy is made by cooking the giblets with a small onion and a stalk of celery in three cups of boiling water, simmering about an hour. Add this liquid to the pan gravy, season with salt and pepper, and if necessary, thicken with flour. Stuffing is an important part of this royal American dish and here are several variations of the ordinary bread dressing:

Ask yourself

"Won't a strong fat

cause indigestion?"

Isn't it safer to use Crisco—the wholesome, digestible shortening?

Before you make your next batch of biscuits, look at your shortening. Does it look good to eat? Does it smell inviting? How does it taste?

If your shortening isn't 100% good, aren't you afraid it may be indigestible?

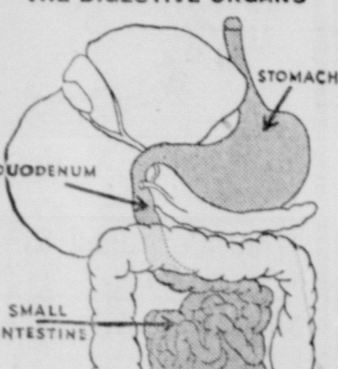

Now—open a sanitary can of Crisco and make the same test. It looks good to eat—as pure as new cream. It smells fresh. It tastes as sweet as new-churned butter.

Crisco is digestible. It doesn't begin to turn rancid when it is exposed to air. It keeps its pure wholesomeness for months . . . because it's made by Crisco's own secret process to keep digestible!

Make Wrap-Arounds with the fluffy, puffy biscuits that Crisco makes. They'll taste good. They'll digest easily!

FREE: New "Even Slice" Pie Pan. Bake your pies in this pan and you can cut them in 8 even slices without "using your eye". A smart new idea. For free pie pan address Procter & Gamble, Dept. A, Box 1801, Cincinnati, Ohio.

THE DIGESTIVE ORGANS

At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily.

RUSSIAN WRAP-AROUNDS
1 pound chopped steak salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon minced onion Crisco
Mix steak with onion and seasoning. Form into flat patties. Put enough Crisco into skillet to cover bottom liberally when melted. Brown meat on both sides. Serve Crisco in pan for cream gravy.

BISCUIT DOUGH
2 cups flour 1 1/2 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup milk (variable)
4 teaspoons baking powder 4 tablespoons Crisco
Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Now cut in the shortening. For light, digestible biscuits use the sweet-tasting, digestible shortening—Crisco. Crisco is not strong-tasting or tallowy; it is so sweet and fresh itself, it makes foods taste better—digest more easily. Cut in the Crisco with a knife or rub in with the finger tips. Add milk gradually and mix to a soft dough. Roll out on a slightly floured board to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut into triangles or squares. Place cooked meat patties on dough triangles and fold over as for apple dumplings. Place in Criscoed pan and bake for 10 to 15 minutes at 450° F. (hot oven). To Crisco left in frying pan add 1 tablespoon flour. Stir until well blended. Then add about 1 cup milk; cook until slightly thick. Salt to taste. Add chopped parsley and pour over biscuits.

Why does CRISCO digest easily? Its pure, sweet taste will tell you

BIMBO HAS HEARD NO WORD FROM HIS HEAVENLY-YES-

THE TEN DAYS HAVE ELAPSED AND STILL SHE HAS GIVEN HIM NO ANSWER—THE POOR FELLOW IS CONFINED TO HIS ROOM—HE IS ON THE VERGE OF LUNACY—

BUT HENRIETTA AND TOM HAVE MADE UP—THEY HAVE SETTLED THEIR LITTLE DIFFERENCES AND SETTLED THE PLANS FOR THE FUTURE—THE ENGAGEMENT RING WHICH SHE RETURNED IS AGAIN ON HER FINGER—AND THEY ARE BOTH—OH—SO HAPPY—

AND YOU PROMISE THAT YOU WILL LOVE ME ALWAYS—

FOREVER

I'LL NEVER LET YOU OUT OF MY SIGHT AS LONG AS I LIVE

OH TOM I'M SO HAPPY

AND THE WIDOW REALLY MEANS IT—BUT HENRIETTA KEEP YOUR EYE ON THAT WIG—DON'T LOSE IT NOW—

POOR BIMBO—I WISH THAT WOMAN HAD NEVER COME INTO HIS LIFE—

THE POOR FELLOW—IF HE DOESN'T HEAR FROM HER SOON HE'LL LOSE HIS MIND—

$74.62 ALUMINUM SET . . .

THE MOST REMARKABLE OFFER IN THE HISTORY OF ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—This 9-piece set of extra heavy, cast aluminum cooking utensils with a retail value of $74.62, given absolutely free to each purchaser of a Majestic Electric Refrigerator. This is not a contest or a stunt of any kind but purely a business proposition offering the American public that extra value which it now demands for its dollar. Through a gigantic national purchase the aluminum has been secured at a price which permits this unheard of bargain to be offered for a limited time. Here is a double Xmas gift which would make any woman happy. A small deposit will hold the refrigerator and the aluminum until Xmas.

Absolutely FREE

Almost every woman would recognize the name of this famous aluminum ware if we were permitted to mention it. This line is sold ordinarily direct to the home; is made of the finest quality extra heavy cast aluminum; carries a lifetime guarantee; permits waterless and greaseless cooking which preserves vitamins and minerals in foods essential to good health. You must see this ware to appreciate its high quality.

WITH A MAJESTIC ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY

This is the latest model, standard Majestic Electric Refrigerator; 10,000 housewives helped design it; and it carries the seal of approval of Good Housekeeping Institute. The hermetically sealed unit is concealed on top. The simple mechanism contains no belts, gears, stuffing box or motor brushes. It has a temperature regulator, double and single depth ice trays making 84 cubes (8½ pounds of ice), doors opening right or left to suit your kitchen. This offer applies on both the $275 and $247.50 Majestic. With the $179.50 Model a six-piece set of aluminum valued at $54.00 is given.

MODEL 170 7 cubic feet $275.00
 MODEL 150 5 cubic feet $247.00
 MODEL 140 4 cubic feet $179.50
